Planet Clare

Aries: Tensions erupt particularly in the workplace and things that have been niggling and bothering you for some time come to the fore and are now in focus. Health issues also require attention. You need to clearly address daily routines and regimens to ensure they support you rather than undermine you.

Taurus: Your creative juices are flowing however other people throw you a curve ball that proves unsettling or stimulating, depending upon your point of view. Do you want to play your own game or be a part of a team? If its teamwork you want, be receptive to other peoples' creativity.

Gemini: This is a time to get your house in order, do some spring cleaning and get organised. You need to establish a firm base that gives you a solid sense of security. Your career presents you with surprising opportunities and it is up to you whether you accept them or not.

Cancer: You have a busy mind this month and are covering a lot of moral ground, thrashing around some important ideas to get to the bottom of some very thorny problems. You will have some sharp insights that may surprise you with their sheer brilliance. Open up your mind to change.

Leo: A line up of several planets in your astrological sector of money and personal resources gives you the wherewithal to organise your budget and balance your chequebook. You will benefit from some sound professional advice and may even receive a stunning tip or two that will increase your wealth considerably.

Virgo: You are seeking to improve yourself in some way. Taking extra pains and paying attention to detail. People give you feedback that opens your eyes to a new way of viewing yourself. You may be surprised at how attractive you appear to others and how much they truly value you.

Libra: You are dealing with some troublesome issues that require a degree of self sacrifice. As the month progresses you can make some major decisions and resolve these pressing concerns. You will come to the right conclusion although it may bring you a degree of anguish to actually reach that point.

Scorpio: You are dealing with issues of love and friendship, the value of each of these and their relationship to each other. Your friends give you the support you need to achieve your personal hopes and wishes and your loved ones touch your heart and make all your efforts seem worthwhile.

Sagittarius: You are busy getting your career in order and making sure all details are attended to. You have everything in this department pretty much under control; however your home base can be seem a little chaotic – or liberating depending on your point of view. Feel free to make radical changes.

Capricorn: Your mind is pre-occupied with big issues requiring judgement, ethics and moral choices. You have a philosophical approach and are earnestly seeking answers to some important questions. You can reach some important conclusions and come to some major decisions that affect the way you will view things from now on.

Aquarius: You are addressing the final details of a long process that you have previously undertaken of establishing rules, boundaries, shared responsibilities and mutual security. You are actually setting yourself up to focus on some much bigger and broader subjects that will take you on a journey either literally or figuratively.

Pisces: Relationships with others are requiring some negotiation and re-negotiation to establish your personal rights and mutual obligations. You need to clarify these issues before you can enter into the deeper aspects of relationship where you are required to trust and to be trusted. This is especially true in financial matters.
