PSYCHIC LINE 1902 213 361

Capricorn: The Sun, Mercury and Venus enter Cancer, ruler of your closest partnership on Tuesday with a full moon in your own sign on Wednesday. There is no doubt this week will be about your soul-mates, spouses, business partners or enemies. Your reactions and theirs will astonish.

Aquarius: It is time to get to work you will feel disgruntled or testy. You are anxious about how much you need to do to fulfill demands or reach a personal goal. Take heart from the fact the heavens are aligned to give you the staying power and motivation you require.

Pisces: You would do anything for love. This week someone needs you and you are happy to oblige. It may entail leaving one group or association behind. No matter, it has run its course. The next three weeks could be among the happiest of the year. Watch your diet and stay healthy.

Aries: No matter how frustrating a home or family situation appears, there is hope on the horizon. Even if you tried before, try again. The planets suggest that someone is ready to capitulate. Wednesday's full moon says you will have more time now that a career obligation is fulfilled.

Taurus: You are not keen on upsetting your routine, but once you get used to the frantic pace. You will find some vicarious enjoyment despite reservations. This is especially true if you are being forced by family or friend to take a holiday or visit someone.

Gemini: What are your ultimate goals? If you are a typical Gemini there are several answers to that question and several prospects under consideration. This is the week to give it a try. Foolhardy - maybe; profitable - probably. You will need to wriggle out of a personal contract.

Cancer: With the sun joining Mercury and Venus in your sign you can breathe a sigh of relief. In some area of your life you have been engaged in a battle. The end is in sight. Wednesday's full moon really is the first day of the rest of your life. This is a very significant time.

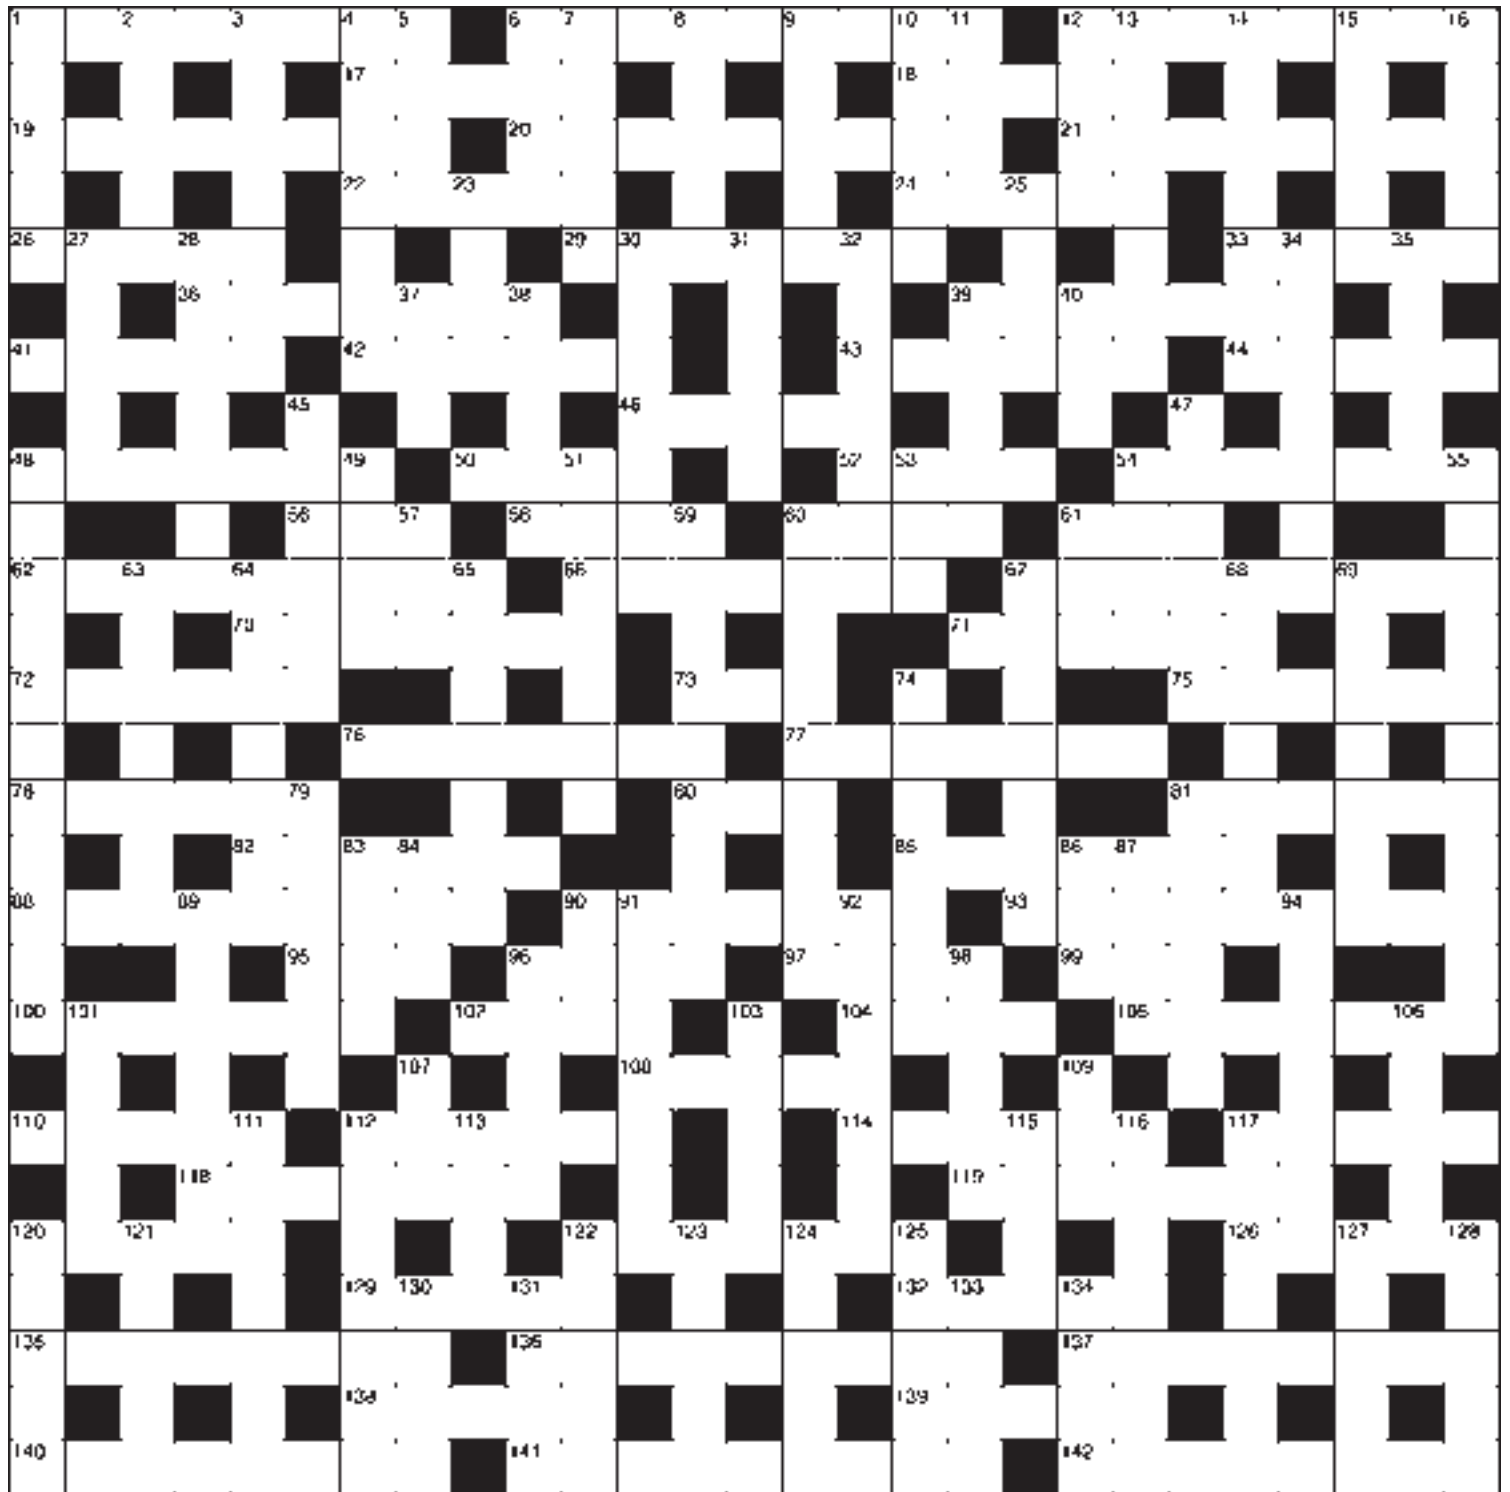

Leo: With so much planetary activity in your solar twelfth house you are allowed to take some time off. You will need to. Many Leo's are embroiled with helping others out of trouble and barely have time to give themselves. A thought from your past can bring aid to your present.

Virgo: As a Virgo you like to be useful, but you will offer your support only to people or causes meeting your strict criteria. Now you have to suspend your critical faculties in favour of expediency, practically or simply your compassion. Someone needs you.

Libra: You have been thwarted, even mocked, no more. Satan has all but finished playing havoc with your reputation, image or career. Now the Sun, Venus and Mercury come to your side, a new role, a new career, a public apology? The full moon is a good time to move.

Scorpio: Scorpios allow their minds to delve where others fear to glance. Often it is uncomfortable. But now it is editing. What you discover through private investigations is nothing short of a personal enlightenment. Soon you can put this new found knowledge to use.

Sagittarius: You like to imagine yourself a free spirit. Truth is, you have obligations and shared responsibilities. This week these weigh heavily, alternatively, you could try to find freedom in commitment. Choosing frees you from perpetually weighting the options. This week is made for intimacy.
